

I believe that the no call list in Wisconsin offers the residents the best amount of protection from harassing telemarketers available at this point in time. At this time I don't believe that any changes should be implemented.